A Trip to the Forest

Are you ready to embark on a memorable trip?

In this book children will learn about how to plan a trip to the forest and the natural wonders hiding there. What can they learn about the forest? A short but engaging trip that appeals to the five senses—one that will make both children and adults see the natural environment with a renewed outlook.

What's Happening to Me?

Marc Parrot & Eva Armisen

These books are filled with sensitive and rhymed texts, originally songs perfect to be read out loud, accompanied with poetical and pictorial illustrations where children will explore the world of emotions, food and theatre. We will discover that whatever feeling we experience, others also experience, that food is a very personal journey where you only need to search for what you like most and enjoy it to the fullest, and that every single task we carry out, as humble as it may seem, is essential for a spectacular result.

Marc Parrot is a musician and song writer for over 20 years. He has been the producer of more than a hundred musical projects and has been the composer and producer of the music for the Catalan National Television Children's Programme since 2007 with which he has won both critical and public applause, and two Gold and three Platinum albums. marcparrot.com

Domesticated Plants and Other Mutants

Iban Eduardo & Alberto Montt

A book about edible plants which attempts to answer questions that you didn't even know you had. Have the plants we eat today always been edible? How have they changed throughout history? If you plant a Canary Islands banana in Beijing, will it still be a Canary Islands banana or a Beijing one? Do people eat the same kind of food around the world? How can one plant and grow seedless watermelons? Could we get fruit to be tasty forever? Wild plants: better or worse?

The evolution of edible plants: from the wild to the lab.

Selling points

- A fun and hilarious approach to science, genetics and biochemistry.
- Amusing and informative text full of jokes that traces the emergence and development of domesticated plants.
- Appealing, bright and comic-like illustrations by well-known graphic humourist and cartoonist Alberto Montt.
- Ideal for inquisitive young readers willing to keep learning.
- Ideal for STEM curricula.

Iban Eduardo holds a PhD in Biochemistry and Molecular Biology. He is part of IRTA, a research institute that aims at studying the genetics of vegetables and their evolution, with a focus on the domestication of crop plants.
